RE: Save Our Dams!

Dear Mr. Graham:

As an avid fisherman myself, I can understand the concerns of the many people who are for shutting down the dams. However, I cannot agree with closing any dams. If the dams are closed, many people will lose their jobs, we will run short of electricity, and our roads will become more dangerous. These dams have a great purpose in the Northwest. Our dams provide water for the many farms in the area. We need a variety of crops to survive. The dams also help with flood control, provide recreational areas and generate power. There is no guarantee that closing the dams will bring the salmon population back to a normal size. There is a great possibility that we will all suffer from closing the dams. I feel that there must be other ways to help the salmon and leave the dams alone.

Sincerely,

Al Walls
